Debate on Migration of Rural Population is Disastrous for India

Report

A debate was organised by Statecraft Society, Department of Political Science, Ram Lal Anand College, University of Delhi on 26 October, 2021 and the topic of the debate was “Migration of Rural Population is Disastrous for India”. The debate commenced at 12 pm on Google meet. The debate was organised under the guidance of Dr. Triranjjan Raj (Head of Department), Dr. Vijay Kumar Bhatia (Function Committee Convenor) and Dr. Kshama Sharma (Program Co-ordinator). A total of 4 students actively participated in the debate out of which 3 spoke in favour of the topic and 1 against the topic. There was an active audience of more than 60+ participants who also gave their inputs from time to time. Some of the major points raised by the students in the favour of the motion were: Due to increasing shift of rural population in urban areas making a pressure on services such as education and healthcare provision. Students against the motion strongly expressed their views that rural shift in urban areas increases the cultural wealth. The debate received tons of appreciation from the students and the teacher alike. At the end a feedback form was circulated in the chat box and the organisers got an overwhelming response. The vote of thanks was given by Dr. Vijay Kumar Bhatia. The session ended successfully at 1 pm with huge number of participants and remarkable feedback by them.
