BRIEF SUMMARY OF THE EVENT:

Shuchita, The Cleanliness and Hygiene Society of RLAC organized an orientation program for the new academic year so that the students of the college will get a chance to join the esteemed society and will be able to play their roles in achieving the goals of having a green and clean campus. The main agenda behind conducting the orientation program was to make the college aware of cleanliness and to recruit young minds who with their new ideas and enthusiasm will do wonders in achieving the ultimate goals. The event was conducted in Room No. 1 with the help of our very devoted and liberal teacher ambassadors Dr. Ritambhara Mishra and Ms. Manisha Wadhwa and some of our student ambassadors who presented the motto and the different types of works and events, competition and drills conducted by the society through presentation. It was a successful event that encouraged other students to join the society and do something good for the campus and overall for our society.

GLIMPSES OF THE EVENT:-

Process of Election/ Nomination of the Office Bearers of Cleanliness and Hygiene Committee

The nomination process for office bearers was conducted efficiently through the use of a Google Form which was officially announced on the college website and was also circulated in the student WhatsApp group also. This digital platform provided a convenient and accessible means for interested candidates to submit their nominations. The utilization of Google Forms not only streamlined the process but also allowed for easy organization and verification of nominee information.

The selection for office bearers took place through a selection process facilitated by faculty members of the society. This method involved a deliberative approach, with faculty members considering the qualifications, commitment, and vision of potential candidates. The involvement of faculty in the selection process suggests a collaborative and mentorship-oriented model, aiming to ensure that elected leaders possess the necessary skills and values to effectively contribute to the society's goals. This faculty-led selection process underscores the importance of expertise and experience in guiding the future direction of the society.
